THE HISTORY OF THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1960-1961

Twenty-two wide-eyed and buck-teethed youngsters were we as we entered Mrs. Frances Pitts' first grade room in September, 1948. During the next twelve years home work, test cramming, basketball, boy and girl friends, and the developing of life-long friendships were to be a part of our activities. We were beginning a wonderful adventure in education.

Mrs. Vera Mae Pitts instructed our class, now increased to twenty-five, in second grade work. Jay Ward left our class this year.

Twenty-one of us welcomed Sara Miller into our third grade room. Linda Kennedy moved away during this year. There were only sixteen of us to welcome Philip Newhouse, a new fourth grade classmate. Mrs. Josephine Alexander instructed us in these two grades.

Ava Irvine and Jerry Binder enlarged our class of nineteen in the fifth grade, but we had to say good-bye to Sharen Ann McBride. Linda Kennedy returned in the sixth grade, but an old friend Judy Harrold moved to Carthage. Mrs. Martha Kesler was our instructor for these two years.

By giving a surprise going-away party at Joyner's, we said "aloha" to Judy Wedding, who moved to sunny California during our first year of Junior High School. Mrs. Sloan was our class sponsor.

Sammy Miller, Gary Linville, and Everett VanScyoc were our new eighth grade friends. However, during this year Philip Newhouse and Larry Long moved away. Mrs. Scaglia was our class sponsor.

During the summer of 1957 Eddie Vandeventer was hit by a car while riding his bicycle. Due to his unfortunate accident, he was unable to enter high school with us. We have the distinction of being the last freshman class to be initiated. During the feast (?) the seniors had prepared for us on the baseball diamond, it rained. The whole student body and faculty got drenched and everyone was sent home for the rest of the day! This year Mrs. Joe White was our sponsor.

Mr. Potts, our sophomore sponsor, helped the eighteen of us select our class rings, a big event in our high school career.

As the Junior year began, we started dreaming, planning, and working for our Senior Trip. Our sponsors, Mr. Lewis Thompson and Mrs. Jean Shelton, helped us with money-making projects such as picking-up-corn, selling candy, ball game concessions, Hobo days, magazine sales, and our Junior Play, "Mumbo Jumbo." Our ranks were reduced to fifteen when Sammy Miller, Everett VanScyoc, and Carol Henby moved away.

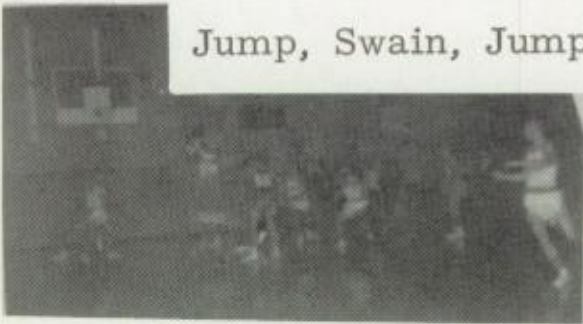

Now as seniors, we are busy as bumble bees. Mr. Marvin Knoop and Mrs. Jean Shelton aided us in a car wash, selling concessions at the Rush County Tourney, selling Christmas trees, and our Senior Play. The dates May 7, when we leave for New York City; and May 16, when we graduate, are engraved on our minds, marking the end of twelve precious years together.

CLASS PROPHECY

This year is 2000 A.D. and the Age of Space is here. Imagine that just 39 years ago I graduated! I don't know how I made it with no IBM machine to do my home work! Those sure were gay old-fashioned days. "Robot Clermont, clex glek glek oogga ogga gleep. (Get out my old 1961 Rambler. I think I'll reminisce a bit.)"

Now let me see--Alan Beckner, I saw him on my colored smell-o-vision picture set just last night playing on the Globe Trotters. He scored 200 points, but that's only natural for someone who's 2 feet taller than the basket!

"Robot Clermont, I'm hungry. Bleep bloop eek pop bing bang ogg. (Bring me a Binder Burger.)" Yes, Jerry Binder sure made his mark in outer space. He has a chain of Rocket Drive Inns from here to Pluto.

Last time I was down to Earth I saw Ava Irvine who has really changed since this picture was taken! She's the star attraction in the Outer Galaxy Circus. She told me that being a fat lady wasn't bad. It was just her beard that gave her trouble--tickles her tummy.

While Linda Kennedy was visiting Mars, she fell madly in love with a Frenchman. Everytime I drink grape juice for breakfast, I think of Linda stomping around in those grapes. That reminds me! I will have to call her again next month and remind her to wash her feet.

Sara Miller never liked boys very well, so I was dreadfully surprised to read in the Inner Space newspaper that she was married.

Norma Gowdy expected to take a modest little position in business, but that was not her fate. If things go well, she'll probably be elected President next November. President of the Club for the Preservation of Green Cheese on the Moon, that is.

I haven't heard from Cynthia Patterson for a long time now. After she divorced her sixth husband, she decided to give up her job at the YMCA.

Phillip Kemple turned out to be invaluable to science. When the Earth was being invaded by Jupiterites, his new recording "Somebody Help Me--My Suspenders Are Falling!" was played and the Jupiterites were so scared that they gave up without drawing a ray gun.

Sue Whipple just made her second million. She bought a Monkey Ranch just at the right time. However, she's keeping busy traveling. Besides visiting her little friends in outer space, she stops off to see her husband on Satellite X-D. She sent him up by mistake one day.

Jerry Thrall always wanted to play the drums in the Missile Band. At least he's getting plenty of practice in making time. Swivel Hips Thrall is reported to have bookings on all the known planets. How's that for high flying?

Kathy Steffey has a show on the air waves which is very popular with all spacemen. It's called "Ten Ways to Enjoy a Food Pill."

Tom Swain couldn't keep up in the Age of Space! He got himself a geiger counter and went out prospecting for uranium. He soon struck it rich so he bought himself his own planet to get a little peace and quiet. The only trouble was that it was already inhabited by space women. Oh well, you can't win 'em all.

Vicki Long wanted a career in which she could go places. She runs a rocket taxi service between Neptune and Venus.

"Robot Clermont, glec gluck, glook, eek, ug beep boop. (See who's at the door.)" Why, hello Gary Linville. I was just reminiscing about the old school days. You say that you have another pill for me to try? Oh, you mad scientist you--I hope this blue pill works. I'm getting mighty tired of being INVISIBLE. No, I still have my modeling job. See, here's my ad in tonight's Star Gazer . . . Amy Sue Addison, Space Suit Modeler "If it doesn't fit, you won't know the difference."

JUNIOR PLAY

The play begins as Peewee and Dick arrive at Dick's uncle's house. Uncle John and Aunt Sara leave for a funeral, leaving the house to the boys. This couldn't be better until the boys realize that their money left with Uncle John. In order to pay off Peaches Greeding, Peewee's wife, the boys with the help of Tweety, the neighbor girl, start a country hotel. Soon they have very unusual guests: Harold Custer, a timid young man with his frightened mother; Peaches Greeding, a chorus girl; Mr. Beamish, a blind man; Dr. Omahandra, a West Indian Mystic with his patient, Kay Samedi and Madam Celesta, a witch doctor. When Peaches is found murdered, Sheriff Lem Marblehead, and Sheriff Emma Burpee are called in. While Emma and Lem argue over whose territory it is, Daisy and Maisy, Emma's nieces, help Dick to solve the crime. The play ends as Daisy and Maisy carry in the lost money.
